This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

PREFACE

This and the succeeding volume, which contain the analytical index to the preceding fifty-three volumes of The Philippine Islands: 1493-1898, bring the series to a close. Throughout the compilation of the index, the effort has been to furnish the investigator the most comprehensive guide to the material of the text. The multifarious interests treated in the various documents, touching as they do so many phases of human life and thought, and their complexity, together with all the elements usually present in the making of an index, have rendered this a task of considerable magnitude. Constant classification and anaylsis have necessarily been demanded to an unusual degree in the longer topics; and these, with the many thousands of minor citations, both concrete and abstract, and names of persons and places, with their numerous variants, have necessitated the utmost care in detail and arrangement. Considerable important additional information has been embodied in footnotes to several captions. Although still far short of their ideal, the editors are confident that the index will stand the test of use.

Wherever possible, matter has been collected under general heads, thus facilitating the work of investigation. All natural features have been collected under their appropriate captions as follows: Bays, Gulfs, and Harbors; Capes, Points, and Promontories; Islands [exclusive of the Philippines]; Lakes, Meteorology; Mountains and Hills; Oceans and Seas; Peninsulas; Rivers; Straits and Channels; and Volcanoes. Similarly, have been collected the various forms of animal life, thus: Birds; Fishes and Fisheries; Invertebrates; Mammals; and Reptiles. Certain products, both natural and the result of man's activity, fall into heads as follows: Clothing; Drugs; Dyes and Dyestuffs; Earthenware; Fibers; Furniture; Gems and Precious Stones; Gums and Resins; Hardware; Hides and Leather; Machines and Machinery; Manufactures; Mines and Mining (including Metals and Minerals); Nuts; Oils; Perfumes; Paints and Varnishes; Plants and Trees; Provisions and Supplies; Shells; Spices; Textiles; Tools, Implements, and Utensils; and Wines, Liquors, and Spirits. The following collected captions are of general human interest: Architecture; Archives and Libraries; Artisans; Books; Commerce; Diseases and Remedies; Games and Sports; Maps and Cartographers; Military Affairs and Allied Matters; Money; Music; Ornaments; Painting and Pictures; Periodicals; Physicians and Surgeons; Population; Prices; Salaries (including Wages); Ships, Navigation, etc.; Slaves and Slavery; Societies; Weights and Measures; and Workmen and Laborers. Affairs connected with government and politics form the following important divisions: Colonies and Colonization; Councils; Decrees; Encomenderos; Encomiendas; Expeditions; Insurrections (including Insurgents, Mobs, Mutinies, Rebellions, Revolts, Revolutions, Riots, and Seditions); Legal and Judicial; Offices; Officials; Penalties; Petitions and Memorials; and Revenue and Exchequer. Ecclesiastical affairs are treated under the following captions: Augustinians; Catholics; Christianity and Christians; Church (the); Confraternities and Brotherhoods, and Sodalities; Dominicans; Ecclesiastical Estate; Franciscans; Jesuits; Mahometans and Mahometanism; Martyrs and Martyrdom; Missionaries; Missions; Orders, Religious; Recollects; and Religious Persons. Cognate to these latter are: Education; Hospitals; Orders, Hospital; Orders, Military; and Saints. Lastly, the ethnological topics form another group of captions, chief among which are perhaps Chinese, Filipinos, Japanese, and Moros. Information concerning the various peoples of the Philippines will be found under the following captions: Abacas; Aetas; Apayaos; Attarayas; Babuyanes; Baganis; Bagobos; Balugas; Bangon; Batanes; Batanganes; Bilans; Blacks; Bukidnon; Bukil; Butuans; Calanasas; Calauas; Calingas; Caragas; Dadayags; Filipinos (including Bicol, Cagayan, Ilocan, Pampango, Pangasinan, Tagálog, Visayans — with the sub-peoples, Boholans, Calamianes, Cebuans, Dapitans, Harayas, Iguienes, and Panayanes — and Zambal); Gaddans; Guiangas; Guimbanos; Ibilaos; Ifugaos; Ifumangies; Igorot; Ileabanes; Ilongots; Irayas; Isinay; Italones; Itaves; Ituis; Loac; Mandayans; Manguangas; Mangyan; Manobos; Mestizos (mixed breeds); Monteses; Moros (including Camucones, Joloans, Lutaos, Mindanaos, Bajaw, Basilan, Illano, Lutangos, Malanaos, Sámal Laút, Sanguil, Sologues, Tiron, and Yakan); Negritos; Sameacas; Subanon; Tagabili; Tagacaolos; Tinguianes; Tiruray; and Ytingues. Peoples outside the Philippines are as follows: Alforas; Achenese; Arabs; Aragonese; Asiatics; Balinese; Barbudos; Berbers; Biscayans; Borneans; Bretons; British; Burmese; Cambodians; Caribs; Chamorros; Chinese; Cimarrons; Cochinchinese; Danes; Dutch; Europeans; French; Greeks; Huns; Huvas; Indians (including Algonquins, Apusabalcos, Aztecs, Brazilians, Caribs, Chichemecos, Chonek, Guarani, Hurons, Inaken, Iroquois, Mistecs, Moskito, Nahuatl, Patagonians, Tamoyos, Tehuel-Che, Tupi, Tzoneca, and Winnebago); Japanese; Javanese; Jews; Kafirs; Lascars; Malabars; Malays; Mexicans; Moluccans (including Ternatans and Tidorans); Moors; Morenos; Moriscoes; Mulattoes; Palaos; Papuans;

Persians; Peruvians; Poles; Polynesians; Portuguese; Sepoys; Seres; Siamese; Siaos; Spaniards; Swiss; Tartars; Turks; Venetians; and Walloons. Special attention is directed to various features of the following captions: Chinese (which contains the largest amount of material ever brought together in any index concerning that people); Commerce and Trade (especially in the Orient); Decrees (which, with much clearer arrangement than it, is the best supplement to the Recopilación de Leyes de Indias ever published); Ecclesiastical Estate (replete with matter concerning the status and working of the Catholic Church); Education; Filipinos; Legal and Judicial; Manila; Moros; and Philippine Islands.

For the sake of greater facility in investigation, some of the more complex captions are here synopsized according to the classification adopted for each one.

The careful reader will notice, in the earlier documents relating to the Franciscans in the Philippines, frequent confusion and discrepancies in the use of the terms "Observantine" and "discalced," which were at first practically synonymous. Later, they are used (as in* VOL. XXXV, p. 305) for distinct bodies within the order; and the "Observantines" seem, in various places, to be confounded with the "Conventuals" (or "brethren of the cloth" – see XX, pp. 92, 116-118). Or possibly the Observantines had relaxed their early severity of discipline, and these who called themselves "discalced" belonged to one of the three branches mentioned at XX, p. 91, as of more austere rule – probably the "Reformed," to judge from allusions on pp. 116, 121, 124. In that case, the epithet "brethren of the cloth" was easily transferable, by the stricter brethren, from the Conventuals to the Observantines. As stated in XXXV, p. 305, the two divisions mentioned in the text finally labored together harmoniously in the Philippines.

In 1580-81, fifteen friars from this Spanish province came to Mexico, under Pedro del Monte (who was the first visitador for his order in the Philippine Islands, whence he did not return). These built a convent (1591-1621) in Mexico, which with some others formed later the custodia of S. Diego de Alcalá, subject to the province of S. Gregorio de Filipinas. Pedro Ortiz, its first custodio, went from Spain with 50 friars for the Philippine mission, and received official recognition at Mexico Aug. 19, 1593; later he was slain in Camboja by the Laos. In 1599, the custodia of S. Diego had seven convents; and in that year it was erected into a province (by papal brief of Sept. 16, and royal permit of Dec. 24). (See Bancroft's Hist. Mexico, ii, pp. 723, 724.)*
